15 years of Quon

Automotive history was made when Quon first debuted at the Tokyo Motor Show 2004 with ground-breaking emission reduction technology, which would become the world standard. Since then, each new generation of Quon has blazed a trail for people-centered smart logistics through regular technological advances and mindful improvements.

The history of Quon is inexorably intertwined with UD Trucks' own journey towards smart logistics that "put people first", benefitting everyone from drivers and fleet managers to society as a whole.
